

Ability to maintain additional ACH
banks on file

E*TRADE Advisor Services now has the ability for an account owner to have more than two active bank accounts on file for IA authorized ACH transactions. The Advisor Authorization for Distributions and Advisor Authorization for Contributions forms are being updated to accommodate the change, allowing the account owner to add to existing bank instructions on file instead of only replacing the instructions.

Until the new form is available, we will accept the Advisor Authorization forms accompanied by additional pages listing all bank account information. You may also use the current form and reference "Add to existing bank information on file".

In the interim, if the form does not include "Add to existing bank info on file" or include any additional supplement, we will continue with the practice of replacing the bank information to match the current document received.

Let your Client Service Advocate know of questions you may have.
