Subject: Fidelity and Fidelity Advisor Small Cap Growth Fund Closing to New Investors

Accessing the following links constitutes your agreement to the institutional.fidelity.com IFC User Agreement & Terms of Use.

FIDELITY INSTITUTIONAL ASSET MANAGEMENT*

This email is notify you that, effective at close of business on February 2, 2018, Fidelity And Fidelity Advisor Small Cap Growth Fund is closed to new investors. While investors will not be able to open new accounts in the fund, existing shareholders who are invested in the fund are able to add to their existing accounts.

We believe limiting new purchases is in the best interests of the fund's existing shareholders, in part, because it helps achieve more stable cash flows.

Additional information is provided in the Q&A or you can contact your Fidelity Representative with any questions.

For investment professionals.

Unless otherwise disclosed to you, in providing this information, Fidelity is not undertaking to provide impartial investment advice, or to give advice in a fiduciary capacity, in connection with any investment or transaction described herein. Fiduciaries are solely responsible for exercising independent judgment in evaluating any transaction(s) and are assumed to be capable of evaluating investment risks independently, both in general and with regard to particular transactions and investment strategies. Fidelity has a financial interest in any transaction(s) that fiduciaries, and if applicable, their clients, may enter into involving Fidelity's products or services.

Stock markets, especially foreign markets, are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, or economic developments. The securities of smaller, less well-known companies can be more volatile than those of larger companies. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. Growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks and the market as a whole and can be more volatile than other types of stocks. Foreign securities are subject to interest rate, currency exchange rate, economic, and political risks. The fund may have additional volatility because it can invest a significant portion of assets in securities of a small number of individual issuers.
