

Efficient Updating of Model Details in Liberty Now Available

Liberty currently has functionality to modify model details which can be time consuming, especially if there are a number of them. To make updates to securities defined within a model more efficient, you can now export existing model data to a spreadsheet, xml or csv document for easier editing. Once done, the document can be uploaded to Liberty where the new modifications can be viewed. User can also import model details to create a brand new model.
